

FUND FOR NEW BRONCHOSCOPY UNIT IN HOSPITAL EXCEEDS QUOTA

Warner hospital benefits conducted here and at Littlestown to provide equipment for the new bronchoscopic department at the hospital netted $2,457.10—more than double the goal originally set—it was disclosed Monday afternoon at the October meeting of the Warner Hospital Auxiliary.

The dance and card party held here in the Moose home on September 23 netted $1,957.10 and the musical presented in the Littlestown high school on October 15 added $500 to the total. Originally $1,100 had been set as the sum necessary to equip the new department, the equipment for which already has been ordered.

Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Auxiliary president, said there are many uses for the surplus funds. The chief project just ahead of the Auxiliary is the financing of repairs and re-furnishing of the Nurses' home. The House committee was directed to confer with Miss Lois R. Benson, director of nursing at the hospital, about the proposed improvements at the Nurses' home.

Seek New Sponsor
The Auxiliary also has bought eight new chairs for the women's ward at the hospital. The ward, formerly sponsored by the Catholic church of McSherrystown, now is seeking a new sponsor.

The Auxiliary voted its thanks to Mrs. Elmer W. Warren, benefits chairman for the Auxiliary, and to Mrs. J. R. Riden, chairman of the Littlestown group, for their successful work on the two benefit affairs. The Auxiliary announced two contributors to the local benefit whose names were inadvertently omitted from previous lists. Nellie's Beauty shop gave a facial as a prize at the party and the Gettysburg Ice and Storage donated ice cream and coffee cream for the event.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, House committee chairman, announced the Elks lodge has repainted the room it sponsors and the Lions club has provided a new bed, mattress and bedside cabinet in its room. The fire company has placed four new chairs in the men's ward, she said.

The House committee will take over the weekly distribution of books from the Adams County Free library to hospital patients, it was announced.

CITES PROBLEMS OF STUDENTS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Miss N. Louise Ramer, of the Gettysburg high school faculty, spoke on "Home Problems from the School Viewpoint," Monday evening at a regular meeting of the Adams County Welfare Council held in the DPA office on North Washington street.

After outlining the various tests and questionnaires used in the guidance program at the high school she said that the information secured by the tests is treated confidentially.

She then discussed some of the home problems whose results are seen by the school program. "Some parents, by being either too over-protective of a child, or too over-ambitious for the youngster, make it difficult for the student to adjust to others," she pointed out.

Cites Obstacles
Unfavorable comparison of one child with another in the same family, often discourages effort, she added. Family income is important as well, with too much or too little separating a child from his classmates. "A high school child needs some spending money and adequate clothes," it was stated, "and too much or too little of either or both sometimes brings bad results."

"A complete family unit, no matter how simple the home, makes for a wholesome balance in personality," Miss Ramer added. She stressed the importance of Sunday school and church relationships in developing responsible young people.

The next meeting of the welfare council will be held November 15.

New Oxford Holds Halloween Parade

A large number of persons both from the New Oxford area and nearby communities spent Monday evening in New Oxford to witness the Halloween parade when individuals and organizations in costume, on foot and in decorated vehicles, marched through the town and competed for the cash prizes awarded for pretty and comical costumes, attractive floats and vehicles.

Most of the business places of New Oxford contributed to the preparation for the parade and the New Oxford high school band led the marchers. M. R. Freed served as parade marshal. Among local organizations represented were the Sons of Union Veterans, Boy and Girl Scouts. In addition to floats, there were a number of bicycle, horse and pony riders, while many costumed adults and children grouped as pedestrians.

After the disbarring of the parade, those participating and attending as spectators were served by the New Oxford Garden club with fresh cider and homemade gingerbread, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to a block party with a group of musicians playing old-time tunes.

Chest Fund Is $18,529.24; Need $470.76 To Reach Goal

Three contributions totaling $5,000 boosted Gettysburg's Community Chest drive to within $471 of attaining its goal of $19,000. John S. Rice, chairman of the campaign, announced this morning.

The Loyal Order of Moose and the Gettysburg Elks Lodge each voted donations of $2,000 and the Fraternal Order of Eagles gave $1,000. Donations of $35 from five other organizations and individual contributions totaling $735 skyrocketed the total donations to date to $18,529.24. This leaves only $470.76 to be raised to "go over the top" in this, the first Community Chest campaign in Gettysburg.

Organizations donating recently include: VFW, $50; Acorn club, Delta Gamma Alumnae Association and Odd Fellows each $10 and the Dorsey-Stanton Legion Auxiliary $5. "We are on the verge of reaching our goal. We need just $470.76 for our objective, hence I am appealing to those who have not been contacted, unintentionally, and to those who plan to give to the Chest to do so

CITES PROGRESS OF MEDICINE IN TALK TO ROTARY

No century in history has witnessed as many advances in medicine as has the past 100 years. Dr. Joseph J. Baker, Baltimore street physician, told the local Rotary club at its regular meeting in the YWCA Monday evening.

At the same time, he added, "medical progress will not stop. There are enough problems still to be solved to keep the best minds of the world busy for at least the next 100 years."

Some of those problems, for which it is hoped solutions will be found in the future are connected with cancer, heart disease, infantile paralysis and similar diseases.

"Psychiatry will become even more important, and will make many strides in the future," Doctor Baker added. "At present it is estimated that from 65 to 75 per cent of all hospital beds—including those in hospitals for the insane, are occupied by psychiatric patients," he said, adding that psychiatric medicine is only in its infancy at present.

"One hundred years ago, a group of men talking together here might have discussed a friend who had 'sugar diabetes,' and of how he died; they might have discussed someone who had a leg amputated and one of the men might have told how he and five other strong men had been called in to hold the patient down while the doctor sawed off the leg. He might have told how the doctor gave the patient a stiff drink of whiskey and then had the others hold him while the sawing took place. If shock and infection did not kill the patient he might live. Or they might talk about the dread epidemics of smallpox, or yellow fever or typhoid and how many died of the diseases."

"We have come a long way from that time. With anesthetics we have done away with the butchery of amputations. In fact many operations are possible because of anesthetics which were not possible before because of the pain. Our knowledge of bacteria and germs and what to do about them prevents infection from operations."

"With insulin the diabetic lives a (Please Turn To Page 2)

at their earliest convenience so that we can conclude our campaign.

"There are a number of business places and individuals who are planning to give to this worthy cause and I am hopeful that their donations will be in sufficient amounts to make up our small deficit."

"Some have inadvertently overlooked sending in their donations. I hope they will send their donations or pledges soon," Chairman Rice said.

$100 IN PRIZES TO BE GIVEN IN "SPOOK PARADE"

Final plans for the borough's annual Halloween parade were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the committee at the Moose home on York street.

More than $100 in cash prizes will be awarded to those participating in the parade Thursday evening. The procession will form at 7 o'clock at the Meade school and will march promptly at 7:30 o'clock from there on Chambersburg to Center square. The parade will then move south on Baltimore street to the high school where it will pass before the judges' stand under the lights of the high school field.

As the winners are determined, they will be brought to the stand and the names will be announced over a loud speaker.

Firemen As Marshals
Members of the committee today reminded spectators and participants in the parade that the crowd will be confined to the area around the playing field. The committee asked that no one walk onto the playing field so that no damage will be done to its surface.

The parade, when it reaches the athletic field, will march along the track entirely on the north side and marching entirely around the field before being judged.

Firemen are to be asked to act as parade marshals, with the fire chiefs as chief marshals and riding at the head of the parade in jeeps. Other firemen will be with each section of the parade to keep participants from "bunching together" as the parade moves through the borough.

Besides prizes to individuals in costumes prizes will also be awarded for vehicles and conveyances decorated for the occasion and entered in the parade.

SCHOOL BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON COUNTY PLAN

The Adams County Board of School Directors tabled a request by Raymond W. Robinson, chief of transportation, State Department of Education, for approval by the county board of a "county plan" at its regular October meeting at the court house Monday night, after discussing three suggested plans, a county unit, modified county unit and a regional district plan of school reorganization.

The consensus of opinion among county board members, County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, supervising principal of the Gettysburg joint district, and others was that not enough time has elapsed since the formation of the seven joint districts in the county to determine how well this system will function.

Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., solicitor for the school board, also recommended that action be postponed until the proposed state plans have been given further study.

Instructor Resigns
The state had requested that the board adopt a resolution approving one of the three plans, to be attached to the reorganization plan submitted to the state Council of Education, Harrisburg, on July 1. Thirty additional Adams county men have been called for pre-induction physical examinations the county draft board announced today. The group of 30, who will report November 1, brings to 44 the number of men called so far for such examination.

Two groups of seven men each were called for examination during October and of the first group only one is available for military duty, the board revealed today. No word has been received concerning how many of the second group passed their physicals. It was thought that the large call for physical examination on November 1 is due to the fact that so few have been qualified for service out of the previous calls.

The registrants on the November 1 call will report to the draft board office in the Weaver building, located above the Coffman-Flisher store on the square, with the entrance beside Faber's, at 6:35 o'clock in the morning and will then leave in a bus for Harrisburg where the examination will take place.

INJUNCTION IS DISMISSED IN CRAWFORD CO.

Meadville, Pa., Oct. 26 (AP)—The State Agricultural Department is free to resume animal and poultry control measures in Crawford county.

Judge Herbert A. Mook cleared the way yesterday by dismissing a preliminary injunction which had halted testing of cattle for bang's disease.

The injunction was granted September 23 at the request of a group of farmers who oppose the state's testing and slaughtering program to control bang's disease. Shortly afterwards the State Agriculture Department halted all control work in the county. Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst saying the action was taken on advice of the Justice Department.

Lack of Jurisdiction
In dismissing the injunction, Judge Mook declared the local court had no jurisdiction and referred the case to the Dauphin County Court in Harrisburg.

The issue arose after a 10-year drive to free Crawford county herds of bang's disease, an animal ailment believed by some to cause undulant fever in humans. More than 85 per cent of the herd owners signed up for the area plan of testing and slaughtering infected cattle with the payment of indemnities.

Action "Unjustified"
Recently, increased infection appeared and the county lost its accredited standing. Herd owners who claimed they represented 50 per cent of the dairymen sought the injunction.

After the preliminary injunction had been granted, Judge Mook said "there was no justification for the action Mr. Horst has taken." He pointed out he had handed down the injunction only insofar as bang's disease was concerned.

Meanwhile, Attorney F. Joseph Thomas, counsel for the herd owners, said the state has assured him it would not press for condemnation of any cattle until after future hearings and conferences.

Widow Acquitted In Murder Trial

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—Frail, brown haired Mrs. Cecilia Atella was acquitted by a jury of 11 women and one man of murder charges in the shooting of her bank guard husband, Ernest.

The 23-year-old Mrs. Atella sat calmly by yesterday while Assistant District Attorney Raymond A. Speiser, obviously angered by the jury's verdict, polled the panel members individually following announcement of her acquittal.

Speiser then announced he would prosecute a further charge of involuntary manslaughter against the defendant. Defense Attorney Harry S. Abrams told the court he was of the opinion the general murder charge indictment included the involuntary manslaughter charge.

The jury deliberated 55 minutes after Mrs. Atella, testifying in her own defense, declared she meant to take her own life, not her husband's, when she pulled the trigger of his revolver last August.

BUS, TROLLEY STRIKE IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—CIO drivers and mechanics for seven bus and trolley systems struck at 9 a. m. (EST) today, leaving 3,500,000 New Yorkers without normal transportation.

The walkout by 8,500 members of the CIO Transport Workers Union over retroactive wage raises hit the city and parts of suburban Westchester county at the crucial morning rush hour. Companies affected are privately operated.

All facilities of the city-owned subway and elevated lines in Manhattan, Queens and the Bronx were geared to rush-hour service for the duration of the strike.

Extra buses rolled on city-owned lines in Manhattan and Queens to relieve the press.

Target of the walkout is the state Public Service Commission. Employees demand that it grant permanent fare increases which would enable payment of about $5,000,000 in retroactive wage hikes.

Says Flaws In Labor Act Need Correction

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26 (AP)—Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore) declared last night that if the Republican party is in power the next four years one of the progressive things it should do is eliminate "injustices" from the Taft-Hartley law.

Asserting that "injustices" in the law do exist, Morse added: "If you really want the injustices corrected, the liberals of the Republican party are going to be in the better position to do it."

Morse told a rally of Young Republicans the GOP "will and should be doomed to political extinction" if it returns to the economic theories of the 1920's.

Urging election of GOP presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey, Morse said President Truman—who bitterly criticized the 80th Congress—offered it no cooperation.

The President, said Morse, consistently laid down a line of action and refused to budge from his stand-pat attitude.

(Continued From Page 1) normal life and through mass vaccination the small pox and other epidemics have been almost wiped off the face of the earth.

"And despite the crudeness of methods in 1848, Pennsylvania was far advanced in medicine due to its excellent, for that time, medical schools. Today the state continues in the forefront of medicine, with its excellent medical schools being one of the reasons for that leadership."

"One hundred years ago most doctors got their training in the medical profession from other doctors and as a result there were some very good doctors and some very poor ones. In 1847 doctors in Chester and Lancaster counties who had formed county medical societies decided to form a state-wide medical association so that the doctors could get together and relate what they knew."

In 1848 the state medical association was formed and its first activities were to raise the standards of the medical profession. Among its other activities was the securing of legislation for universal vaccination for smallpox. That drive started in 1849 and several years later the legislature voted the bill through. They sought registration of births, deaths and marriages and succeeded in securing such state wide registration. They also fought for pure drug legislation so that a doctor would know that when he prescribed a certain drug it would be given by the druggist, and they were successful in that drive."

SAYS TRUMAN SPLIT PARTY

Erie, Pa., Oct. 26 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin declared last night that President Truman "has splintered the once-great Democratic party into the right wing Dixiecrats, the left wing Wallace-ites, and the groping, stumbling new dealers grown old."

Martin asserted "it is shocking that we have a president, so little in touch with realities, that he dares to call the exposure of Communism nothing but a red herring."

"On the very day that a Russian woman school teacher leaped from a window in the Soviet consulate, preferring death to a return to Communist Russia," said Martin, "the president of the United States was ridiculing the disclosures of Reds in our government as a lot of bunk — just a red herring."

PICK ALL-STAR TEAM FROM SIX CLUBS IN MAJORS

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Five players from the American and five from the National make up the 1948 major league all-star team as selected for the Associated Press by 220 baseball experts throughout the nation.

Only six of the 16 big league clubs, three in each league, are represented in the third annual all-star aggregation. The World Champion Cleveland Indians won two berths as did the National league Champion Braves.

The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, runner-ups in their respective circuits, also placed two representatives each. One man from the New York Yankees and one from the New York Giants complete the team.

Six Holdovers

Of the ten men selected, no fewer than six are holdovers from the 1947 all-star team. They consist of the entire infield of Johnny Mize, Joe Gordon, Bob Elliott and Lou Boudreau; Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio, who comprise two thirds of the outfield. Williams, slugging outfielder of the Red Sox, is the only performer to be elected to all three teams starting in 1946.

No player was a unanimous choice. Stan Musial, the National league's batting king, and Williams, the champion stickman of the American league, were tied for the most votes. Each drew 212 of the 220 ballots cast.

Johnny Sain of the Braves gathered 140 votes to be named the righthanded pitcher of the team. The tall Arkansas curve ball specialist who won 24 games during the regular season, and shut out the Indians, 1-0, in the World Series opener, more than doubled the 60 votes drawn by Bob Lemon, Cleveland's 20-game winner.

Battles Were Close

The battle for the top lefthanded pitcher was much closer. Harry (the cat) Brecheen, 20-game winner of the Cardinals, was the victor. He was backed by 90 votes to 80 for Hal Newhouser, who won 21 games for the second division Detroit Tigers.

Birdie Tebbetts, peppery backstop of the Red Sox, failed to reach 100, but had enough to win the catching job. His 82 votes were 32 more than runner-up Jim Hegan of Cleveland, who was able to muster.

The all-star team:

First base — Johnny Mize, Giants.
Second base — Joe Gordon, Indians.

Third base — Bob Elliott, Braves.
Shortstop — Lou Boudreau, Indians.

Center field — Joe DiMaggio, Yankees.

Right field — Stan Musial, Cardinals.
Catcher — Birdie Tebbetts, Red Sox.

Righthanded pitcher — Johnny Sain, Braves.
Lefthanded pitcher — Harry Brecheen, Cardinals.

NFL VETS HOLD LOOP RECORDS

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—Veteran pro gridders still dominate national football league statistics today but a few newcomers threaten to crash the spotlight in their specialties.

Charley Trippi, University of Georgia all-American now denting NFL lines for the Chicago Cardinals, vaulted into second place in the ground gaining department. The hard-running Trippi joined the pro ranks only last year.

Green Bay's brilliant halfback, Tony Canadeo, continues to set the pace among ground gainers with 381 yards in 70 attempts, an average of 5.4 yards per plunge. Trippi, in 47 carries, has gained 320 yards for 6.8 average.

Steve Van Buren, the Philadelphia Eagles' top runner and last year's ground gaining champion, is in fourth place (264 in 86 tries) behind Elmer Angsman of the Cardinals (245 in 52).

The Eagles' T-formation master, Tommy Thompson, bolstered his passing leadership despite a shoulder injury that sidelined him for most of last Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears. Thompson has tossed 92 passes, completed 53 for 666 yards—eight heaves going for touchdowns and only three into enemy hands—for a 5.76 average.

The Bears' Johnny Lujack, former Notre Dame all-American and another NFL rookie, tops the pass stealers. He's intercepted six enemy heaves for a return of 83 yards.

Joe Mutha of the Eagles is still the NFL's No. 1 punter. He's booted 29 for an average distance of 46.7 yards. Boston's Roy Zimmerman is second with 41 punts averaging 43.6.

Two-Way Tie Looms For Teacher Elevens

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—A two-way tie loomed in Pennsylvania's teachers' college conference today as Bloomsburg and California moved into a commanding lead in the mythical league.

Bloomsburg, unbeaten in six games, won its fourth tutor contest Saturday by upending Shippensburg, 13-7, while California kept pace with a close victory over Clarion, 21-20. California has lost one outside game, bowing 7-6 to West Liberty of West Virginia.

Two games remain for both Bloomsburg and California and each appears a good bet to wind up the season unbeaten in loop play. Bloomsburg has the tougher schedule, though, meeting a strong East Stroudsburg eleven in its final game on November 13.

48 GOVERNORS HONOR 'CONNIE'

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—A book containing letters of congratulations from the governors of all 48 states was presented today to Connie Mack on the completion of 48 years as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The book was presented by Mayor Bernard Samuel who told the 85-year-old baseball veteran: "You have been a leading exponent of clean sports, clean living and the example you have set during your long and eventful career has been and ever will be an inspiration to the youth of America."

Here is what some of the governors had to say:

Thomas E. Dewey, New York—"As a lifelong baseball fan, I am happy indeed to join in congratulating the grand old man of baseball in his forty-eighth anniversary as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. The name of Connie Mack stands for what is best in our national game. It stands not merely for winning teams, but for fine sportsmanship."

James H. Duff, Pennsylvania—"In your teams you kindle a spirit of effort and victory. Even more important, you have helped kindle that spirit in American youth and you are an inspiration for boys, whether they play with the scrubs, on the sandlots, or on the organized junior teams."

J. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina—"Yours is a record which has no equal. Yours is a record of which you may well be proud. The happy part of this occasion is the knowledge that your usefulness has in no way dimmed in the passing of the years but rather has increased."

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: John T. Gist, of Hanover, has taken charge of the Eagle Hotel restaurant.

Mrs. Edward McPherson is building a brick work-shop for Mumper and Bender, in the rear of their salesroom, and is also erecting a stable for their use, back of the Columbian building.

Winfield S. Schroeder, of this place, was on Thursday appointed a Deputy Revenue Collector for this county and a portion of York county, in place of S. Miley Miller.

The firm of Ramer & Bro., bakers, has been dissolved; Jacob Ramer will continue the business.

The Forty Hours Devotion at St. Francis Xavier's church commenced on Sunday and was largely attended. The exercises were under the direction of the pastor, Rev. H. S. Christ, assisted by Revs. P. P. Hemler, of New Oxford, and W. E. Martin, of Bonneauville.

On Tuesday, Nov. 15, will be sold at Meadow Valley Farms, a lot of Jersey cows.

Fifty members of Co. M, 5th Pa. Vol., left yesterday afternoon at 3:52, to take part in the Jubilee parade in Philadelphia on Thursday.

Fire: Monday evening at about 7 o'clock the fire alarm was sounded caused by fire being discovered in the property occupied by Walter McCullough, on Chambersburg street. Before the firemen got to work, the whole roof was on fire. After the firemen got to work they soon had the fire under control.

The house is owned by Mrs. Sarah E. Hoke, and was badly damaged. Insured for $1,000. Mr. McCullough had most of his furniture on the second floor burnt up. Insured for $600.

The house just east of this one, owned by Mrs. Hoke and tenanted by Harry Little, was drenched by water. House insured for $600, furniture $300.

The roof and upper story of the W. B. Hunter house on the west was badly damaged. Insured for $1,500 in Stock company.

This experience shows that our Fire Company should be reorganized at once, and the Town Council should lose no time in taking steps to have this done.

Reel No. 2 with only 500 feet of hose, was attached to a plug at least 1,000 feet away from the fire. It had to be reeled up again, then taken to the engine, where it should have gone in the first place.

Wedding Bells: A very pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross White, of Liberty township, when their youngest daughter, Frances S., was united in marriage to Capt. John Reed Scott, of this place, by Rev. David Riddle, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Emmitsburg, Md., in the presence of only the immediate families. The ceremony was performed on the lower platform of the stairway in the reception hall.

The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Luella White, also by little Luella Annan and Joanna White as flower girls, Jamie and Francis White, nephews of the bride, acted as ribbon bearers.

The bride was particularly attractive in her going away gown of blue cloth, and she carried American beauties. She has always been a great social favorite.

Marriages: Decker—Hagaman—Oct. 25, a Congregational Chapel, by Rev. D. F. Haugh, S. J., C. Albert Becker, of Hunterstown, to Miss Florence C. Hagaman, of McSherrytown.

Sefton—Riggall—Oct. 20, at Orrtanna, by Rev. J. F. Mackley, of Orrtanna. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride, Miss Fannie A. Riggall, of Orrtanna.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

INTIMACY

I would say that the most intimate possession in this world is a friend. Next to that, perhaps, might be named a book—the Bible, Shakespeare, or some special volume of an inspiring nature. Then there are special locations that become endeared to us as we drink in their beauty and become familiar with all that they represent.

The mere meeting of a valued friend is benediction in itself. And there are many books that dispel loneliness the moment they are viewed. There is a quality there, in each instance. Every library represents a multitude of silent friends—books that were once men and women, in our likeness.

I wear two rings, modestly and simply designed, one on each little finger—but not for show. Only because of my deep love for semi-precious stones that exult in beauty, and have once slept tightly in the deep earth. The star in one and the deep color in the other are like two silent poems that I carry about with me, and which inspire me.

The place of one's birth or where the happiest years of our youth may have been spent continually bring to mind the intimacy of loved ones and of many an inspiring and thrilling experience. What an intimate service memory enacts in our lives! We can live our youth—and still have it, too!

I can understand the intimate love that people have for a garden. Its color and variety of form, its fragrance and its actual personality, as expressed so vividly in every leaf and flower, appeal to one's highest senses. There is no unspoken language in this world so intimate as that one of flowers. It is a universal language, yet one must have the secret of interpretation in one's heart to understand that language.

There are certain books I love so much that I never lose the opportunity to get every interesting edition of it, like the limited ones, the illustrated ones, and those in different languages. Thus does my intimacy with that book grow, and as it grows I am enriched.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Where We Learn Most"

WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED
"The doctor is coming for dinner," she said,

"So tonight I shall serve neither butter nor bread;

Neither sugar nor salt on the table will be;

No cocktail to start with; no coffee, no tea;

"No oil for the salad—just one lettuce leaf—

And as for the meat course, it can't be roast beef

So red that its juices the platter will run.

One lamb chop, if small and is very well done.

No ice cream for sweets, and no rich macaroons.

Dessert will be simple—a couple of prunes.

There'll be nothing he likes that will turn into fat.

You may trust me, my dear, to make certain of that."

I ran through the menu, and shaking my head,

"It doesn't seem much of a dinner," I said.

And she answered, I fancied, with venomous glee:

"It is just what the doctor has ordered for me."

EXPECT LABOR VOTE TO SWING ELECTION IN PA.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP) — The unpredictable labor vote may well swing the election in traditionally Republican Pennsylvania next week.

FDR bagged the state's 35 vital electoral votes the past three presidential campaigns but the GOP held on to statehouse control.

Now both Democratic and Republican chieftains are claiming the rich industrial empire. An estimated 80 per cent of the 4,758,058 eligible voters will decide the issue.

Murray Backs Truman

The labor picture is paramount what with 500,000 CIO and 500,000 AFL members along with some 200,000 Independent United Mine workers. They rule a big block of the voter registrations.

Miner Chieftain John L. Lewis says President Truman is "incompetent" but then just as strongly he attacks the Taft-Hartley law which has Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's okay. CIO President Philip Murray of Pittsburgh backs Mr. Truman because the President insists on repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. AFL national leaders also are fighting the Taft-Hartley law.

GOP Prediction

Labor plumped for President Roosevelt in 1936, 1940 and 1944 as he rolled up impressive majorities in Pennsylvania's heavily populated industrial cities.

GOP National Chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., a Philadelphia member of the U. S. House of Representatives, predicts Pennsylvania voters will give the Republican ticket a 400,000 majority.

Philip Mathews, Democratic State Chairman, says "Four years ago the people of Pennsylvania rejected Governor Dewey's bid for the presidency and this year they will do it again."

Progressive State Chairman J. W. Gitt says "the people" are rallying in greater numbers behind Henry Wallace—but he doesn't predict victory.

Claims Pittsburgh For GOP

The candidates—all save the state rights standard bearer J. Strom Thurmond—showed their regard for Pennsylvania as a prize worth fighting for. All made major speeches in the Keystone state. Mr. Truman twice. Even the vice-presidential nominees—Democrat Alben Barkley, Republican Earl Warren and Progressive Glen Taylor—have stumped the hinterlands.

GOP administrations have governed Pennsylvania for more than 50 years except for the 1935-38 Democratic regime of Gov. George H. Earle who now is backing Dewey.

Roosevelt's victories were earned in the metropolitan areas with Philadelphia and Pittsburgh together turning in a 200,000 majority, double FDR's lead in the entire rest of the state.

Pittsburgh, in reality, is the Democratic stronghold in Pennsylvania but Republican Chairman James J. Malone, Jr., said he's confident the GOP will carry the steel city "by a very comfortable margin." Democratic Leader Bernard M. McGinnis, however, predicts victory "by at least 100,000 voters."

POPULARITY POLL STAGED IN FOUR CITIES

By JACK BELL

En Route With Dewey to Chicago, Oct. 26 (AP) — An unofficial political popularity contest in four of the nation's biggest cities was under way today as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey trailed President Truman into Chicago.

At stake — from the Republican viewpoint — is the size of the margin by which the GOP nominee's followers expect him to win the presidency one week from today.

Confident that Dewey has enough rural and smaller city strength to put him over, these Republicans were intent on cutting down the usual Democratic majorities turned out by Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and New York city.

Truman Appears First

For that reason Cook county Republicans were reported determined to match or exceed the welcome given to Mr. Truman on his visit to Chicago yesterday.

Similarly, Republicans will try to out-do their Democratic rivals when Dewey follows the president into Cleveland tomorrow, into Boston Thursday and into New York city Saturday.

Mr. Truman, keeping one day ahead all the way, will close his campaign Saturday in Independence, Mo., his home town.

Dewey has announced that in Chicago tonight he will outline how he proposes to put into effect "friendly" policies toward labor, business and agriculture if he is elected. The speech will be broadcast (NBC) and televised (ABC) at 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

GOP Very Confident

His election is taken so much for granted in his cap that the Republican nominee is not expected to reply to blistering attacks directed his way by the president. Even in its final week, the GOP campaign apparently is moving with the throttle only half open.

On all the 16-hour trip from Albany, where his special train pulled out at midnight last night, to Chicago, no speaking stop was arranged in advance.

Neither was there any plan for the

It will be held in conjunction with the Halloween party of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Wednesday night which will be held in the St. John's parish hall instead of the basement of St. Paul's church as previously announced. Transportation will be provided from St. Paul's church up to 7:15 p. m.

About 40 of the children and grandchildren and their families of Jacob Forry of Hanover, held a reunion Sunday afternoon in the grove of Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown. A picnic lunch was served and games and music were enjoyed. Those attending from Littlestown were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Sell, daughter, Pearl, and son, Dean; and those from Gettysburg included Mrs. Ralph Forry and daughter, Yvonne.

Troop No. 26, Littlestown Girl Scouts, Mrs. Richard Hartlaub, leader, will hold a Halloween party on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Littlestown fire hall. All members are requested to come masked.

Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. in the P.O.S. of A. hall, the Women's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity will hold their first special event of the club year which will be a Halloween party for the members and their children. There will be games, prizes and refreshments. The committee in charge includes the membership committee: Mrs. George Smith, chairman, Mrs. Nevaeh Crouse, Mrs. George Dehoff, Mrs. George Maitland, Mrs. Marvin Nester and Mrs. Paul Snyder. In addition, the committee will include the following appointed by the president: Mrs. Laura Stoner Doster, Mrs. John Flemming, Mrs. Richard Harner, Mrs. George Mayers, Mrs. Robert Crouse, Mrs. Donald Lemon and Mrs. Erwin A. Rebert.

Miss Shirley M. Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theron W.

Spangler, North Queen street, a sophomore at Cedar Crest college, Allentown, has been selected as a member of the president's advisory council according to an announcement made by Dr. Dale H. Moore, president of the college. The council consists of 26 girls chosen by the student leaders who were selected as carefully as possible with a new to representing every type of campus opinion. The advisory council will meet once a month at the president's home for the purpose of discussing matters of policy and of general interest both to the students and to the administration. Miss Spangler is majoring in biology and has been active as the treasurer of WAA.

A large number of Littlestown football fans attended the Littlestown-Dallastown high school football game at Small field, York, on Monday night.

Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 30

Major Rockwell walked into the dressing room. Walter James closed the door behind him and leaned his back against it. Rockwell looked at him with astonished eyes.

"What is this all about, Mr. James?"

"Sit down," suggested the slender detective. "I'll try to explain it to you." He cocked an ear to the stage where Shasta Lynn was finishing her song. "I'll have to be brief, though."

The major put one hand on the dressing table chair. "You called me Dr. Boone. That's the second time you've made a mysterious reference to a name, Mr. James."

"Yes," said Walter James and smiled a cat smile. "Because that's who you are, Major."

Rockwell's tanned face whitened perceptibly. "I swear, Mr. James—" "It'll be in the voice that held the int of a quaver."

Walter James' arm was throbbing like the beat of a drum. "You don't have to swear, Major," he said softly. "Because I know that you're telling the truth. You're not really Dr. Boone—but you'll do."

The slim man grimaced impatiently. "Sit down, Major." He gestured forcefully with the gun. Rockwell sank slowly into the dressing table chair, keeping his eyes riveted in the smaller man's face.

From his coat pocket, Walter James brought forth several lengths of neutral-colored fish line. With the deftness born of long practice, he tied the big man's wrists to the back of the chair, and then, bending down, his ankles to the chair.

Rockwell said, his voice underwritten by terror. "What—what are you going to do with me?"

"Oh, I thought I told you. You're going to be Dr. Boone. Clapp has worked awfully hard on this case and he deserves to have a Dr. Boone, even if he's the wrong one."

Rockwell stared at him, his lips parted slightly. Walter James squinted thoughtfully at the pistol in his hand. He sat down in the folding chair.

A movement of Rockwell's head made him look up sharply. In the mirror he saw that the door behind him had slid open.

"Keep your hands on your knees, Walter."

The old woman in funeral black shut the door in back of her without looking at it. Walter James sat quietly, watching her in the mirror. The silvered pistol in her hand pointed unwaveringly at his spine.

"Good evening, Ethel," he said. "Let go of the gun," she said, almost in a whisper. Walter James allowed his fingers to relax and the .38 thudded against the wooden floor. Major Rockwell let out a wailing sigh.

"Thank God!" he said. The woman gave him the briefest of glances. "Who's this?"

Walter James said softly "Why, this is Dr. Boone, Ethel."

"Dr. Boone!" The woman's lips curled. "He's not Dr. Boone—you know and I know that there isn't any Dr. Boone."

"Yes," agreed the slender man. "You and I know it. But nobody else does. And Dr. Boone has been very useful to me."

"You didn't think you could get away with it, did you, Walter?" asked Ethel Lantz. "Don't move your hands!"

Walter James froze. "I am getting away with it," he said. "I knew you were here after we found the gun, but I'll admit I didn't expect you to show up tonight. Did you write that note from Shasta Lynn?"

The woman stared in the mirror at his flat blue eyes. "After I failed twice, I decided I had to make my opportunity to kill you." Her mouth smiled bitterly and alone. "Occasionally, people can be more clever than you, Walter. I knew that Shasta Lynn was the one thing that you weren't sure about. I knew that a message from her would bring you in with your guard down."

Walter James looked tenderly at her reflection. "Ethel," he said, "you shouldn't have been afraid to come back to Atlanta. We could have shared the money and carried out the plan together. Then we could have had each other. You know that. I've been waiting for you to get in touch with me."

The old young face twisted hatefully. "I didn't want you—I wanted Hal. But you killed him, Walter. You wanted the money all to yourself. The plan would have worked for all of us, but you wanted it all to yourself."

"It can still work, Ethel," Walter James inched forward on the chair. "We can get rid of Shasta Lynn tonight. Give Clapp the major here as a fall guy. Then you come out of hiding and—"

Ethel shook her white head and the old-fashioned hat bobbed. "Nobody else is going to die, Walter—nobody except you. I don't want anything more now that Hal can't be with me. All I want is to watch you die—the way you watched Hal die."

Walter James shook his head sadly. "If only you had come back to Atlanta."

"I was afraid. Anybody that knows you should be afraid of you. Your eyes—the way they are now. That's the way they were that night when Hal was in Denver and you suggested that we kill him and carry out the plan by ourselves. That's when I began to be afraid. That's why I went to Miami before Hal got back." Her voice trembled. "I let him down. I was too weak and too afraid of you to stay in Atlanta and warn him."

Ruth's Body Buried Yesterday In N. Y.

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—The body of baseball's immortal Babe Ruth was in its final resting place today, more than two months after the former home run slugger's death August 16.

mourners at final rites for Ruth August 19, a bare handful was present yesterday when the body was taken from a receiving vault and lowered into a grave in Gate of Heaven cemetery, Westchester county. The mahogany casket bore a silver name plate with the inscription "George Herman Ruth." The marten is a close relative of the Russian sable. Once plentiful, it is found now only in the heavily timbered regions of America.

TRUMAN SEES TIDE MOUNTING FOR DEMOCRATS

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Aboard Truman Campaign Train,

Oct. 26 (AP) — President Truman claimed that "the tide is rolling" for the Democrats as he turned today from a roaring Chicago welcome to renew his election drive in Indiana and Ohio.

Spurred by the cheers of hundreds of thousands in the Illinois city, Mr. Truman declared that on election day "some of the reddest faced people the country has ever seen will be the pollsters."

And in Cleveland's public hall, at 9 o'clock (EST) tonight, associates said the President will give the poll takers an even more thorough going-over for their predictions of heavy majorities for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP nominee.

Jacob Arvey, chairman of the Cook county Democratic central committee, and former Mayor Edward J. Kelly arranged an ovation for the President in Chicago last night such as he has not seen in all his cross-country stumping campaign which started in Michigan on Labor day.

Bill Horstman, manager of the Chicago stadium, estimated that 24,000 persons were jammed into the big west side arena, and another 20,000 stood around outside to hear Mr. Truman as he declared democracy at home is threatened by forces similar to those that backed Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo.

The President said that "powerful reactionary forces" working through the Republican party, are "silently undermining our democratic institutions."

Ray J. Crane, chief of the Chicago uniformed police, estimated that 750,000 persons greeted Mr. Truman as he paraded from the Blackstone hotel through streets loaded with holders of Truman signs and alight with fireworks.

Later, grinning happily at the applauding throng in the stadium, the grey-haired chief executive said he had gotten the "facts" of the campaign before the people by a strenuous personal campaign.

The victim was identified yesterday as Charlotte Cord, of Chester. She was pronounced dead at Chester hospital.

A number of pedestrians at the busy intersection saw her struck by the train which was drawn by two locomotives. The engineers, E. M.

For a Strong, United America Put this Winning Team in Washington

For strength and security at home and abroad, we must have a united nation. That calls for teamwork in government, teamwork between government and the people. It demands the ablest leadership.

Their lifetime records prove that Dewey and Warren will provide such leadership. They will untangle, unravel and unsnarl the muddled mess in Washington. They will deal intelligently and firmly with high prices, including the high price of government. They will establish clear-cut, consistent policies which will build a real foreign relations program and restore our leadership to world peace. They will unite Americans in teamwork with each other and with the world.

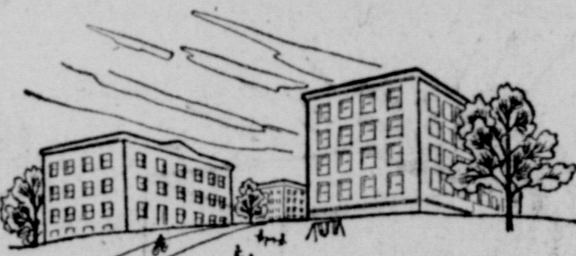

What have they done? Here's just a part of the record:

As Governors of two of our greatest states, they have given the people well-organized and well-run government. They have cut out waste and extravagance, saved money for the taxpayers, reduced the public debt. New York taxpayers were saved 800 million dollars through Dewey's tax cuts; in California, Warren's tax reductions amounted to 500 millions.

Dewey and Warren do more than talk about tolerance; they have put it into law and practice. They do more than talk about cleaning up corruption and crime; as the nation's most successful district attorneys, they closed the rackets and jailed the racketeers. You can depend on this—there will be no Communists in a government headed by Dewey and Warren!

These candidates are men of action, not just talkers. Dewey's low-rent housing plan, America's No. 1 attack on slums, provided homes for 160,000. Warren's administration has kept Californians housed all through the most rapid population growth in history. Both have outstanding programs for veterans.

They know the needs of agriculture, labor and business, because California and New York are leaders in industry and farming. They understand the people's everyday problems, because they know what it is to be poor—both of them started at the bottom and went to the top by making good on every job.

They've done it before; they'll do it again—for all the people of the United States!

For Teamwork in Government, Elect

And for complete teamwork, elect a Congress that will work with Dewey and Warren. Re-elect the Congress that reduced your income taxes against the bitter opposition of a Democrat Administration; the Congress that freed the 7½ million lowest-income taxpayers from all income taxes; that protected the rights of all workers; the 80th Congress that carried out the will of the people.

CATTLE—Large receipts at practically all mid-western terminal markets today coupled a heavy volume locally and a slow trade for dressed beef resulted in a very slow live-cattle market. Fresh receipts supplemented by about 400 head from late last week. Salable supply included the equivalent of 65 head slaughter steers, 14 head of heifers and 13 head stocker and feeder steers.

Slaughter steers scaling less than 1,225 pounds and grading predominantly good met first action on a steady basis compared with last Thursday; heavier weights not a very narrow demand and the bulk of such offerings remained unsold at 1:00 P. M. Other steers cleared on a weak-to-50-cent-lower basis. A few lots and loads of mixed grade, high-medium to high-grade fed-on-the-grass steers, 1,025-1,225 pounds, $28-30; a load or so of 1,300 pounds, $29-25. Bulk of the common and medium, $21-27.

Although the heifer supply was larger than it has been lately it was still relatively small. Prices showed little net change as odd head low-grade grade, $25 and most of the common and medium grass fat, $19-25. A few live cutters dropped to $17.50. Trading very irregular in the cow department again. Prices unevenly steady to mostly 50 cents lower. Good cows generally showed the full loss, but declines were noticeable throughout the list. Good cows, $20.50-21.50 including loads of mostly good, $21.25 down. Bulk of common and medium cows, $18-20 while canners and cutters, $17-20. Shelly canners, $12.

Bulls met a fairly active trade at mostly unchanged prices compared with last Thursday. Odd good beef, $25; odd side price on sausage offerings, $24.25 but most sales, $24 with bulk good, $21-24.

A spread of $18-21 accounted for most of the common and medium grade sausage. Stocker and feeder steer prices shared the slaughter-steer trend on an unevenly steady-to-50-cent lower basis. Stock calves displayed the least change. A few good and choice 975-1,090-pound feeding steers, $28-28.50, but bulk of the mostly good grade fed, $20-25.50 down. $25-10-27.50; medium and good 600-900 pounds, $21.50-25.

CALVES—Good and choice grade vealers and under 300 pound slaughter calves met a fairly active trade, but heavier weights cleared slowly. Prices for all classes were about steady with last week's close. Good and choice under 300 pound slaughter calves and vealers $27-32, top $32; good grade over 300 pounders from $25 in most cases. All weights of common and medium, $20-26 and odd light culls, $10. A larger percentage than recently sold as stock calves as several loads and smaller lots of medium and good around 350-425 pound steer calves, $22.50-27; a few common and medium, $20.

HOGS—Trading in the hog division was slow in opening rounds but improved later. Good and choice fairly active. Prices for all weights and grades were generally 50 cents under last Friday. Around three double decks of rail-ships and barrows and gilts and a few lots of closely sorted trucked-in offerings promising better-than-average yields and scaling 190-220 pounds, $27-28. Top paid for two loads of Indiana offerings. Other good and choice 180-250-pound barrows and gilts, $26.25-26.75; 257-275 pounds, $25.75-26.25; 275-300 pounds, $25.25-25.75; 300-350 pounds, $24.25-24.75; 350-400 pounds, $23.25-23.75; over 400 pounds, $22-22.50; 120-140 pounds, $23-23.50; 140-160 pounds, $24.75-25.25; 160-180 pounds, $25.75-26.25. Good and choice culls scaling 400 pounds, and less turned mainly at $22.25-22.75; 400-450 pounds, $21.25-21.75; heavier weight and odd stage, sold downward from $20.50; smooth light stage were quotable higher. Bulk of all weight ranges in the upper half of quotations.

Study Bids On New Link On Turnpike

Harrisburg, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike commission today weighed acceptance of an unofficial low bid of $930,804 for construction of a second link in the 100-mile Philadelphia extension of the superhighway.

The bid, offered by C. W. Good, Lancaster, was opened yesterday together with 16 others on 4.36 miles of grading, drainage and structures east of Mt. Hope in Penn township, Lancaster county.

Construction already has started on the first section, 3.4 miles in Fairview township, York county. When completed in 1950, the high speed four-lane extension will run from Middlesex to King of Prussia, near Philadelphia. It will cost an estimated $75,000,000.

The next stretch will be in Dauphin county and a multi-million dollar bridge over the Susquehanna river.

CONTRADICTIONS BY USSR BLOCK WORLD ACTION

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 26 (P)—Russia, by taking completely opposite stands, has now blocked action on two of the biggest issues in the world: the atomic bomb and the Berlin blockade.

In both cases the result is the same: Obstruction. By contradicting herself, Russia has made it clear that she is not going to be any ball game at all, it has to be played Russia's way.

Take the case of the bomb—The U. N. long ago set up an atomic energy commission to find ways of outlawing the atomic bomb and being sure no nation could make it.

Nothing Doing, Says USSR
The commission finally recommended this. First, set up U. N. control, with U. N. investigators free to go into any country to see that no one was cheating. After the controls were working, the United States would get rid of its bombs and no nation would have any.

Nothing doing, the Russians said. They wanted the U. S. to destroy its bombs before the other nations set up the controls or talked about them.

The Berlin Blockade
Now take the case of the Berlin blockade—

A group of six nations not mixed up in that dispute suggested in the U. N. that Russia lift the Berlin blockade so the U. S., Britain and France could send supplies in by train to feed their troops in Berlin and Germans living there.

Then, said the six nations, as soon as the blockade was lifted, Russia, the U. S., Britain and France could begin talking about all their Berlin problems.

No, said Russia yesterday, vetoing the idea. Russia said it will not lift the blockade before the Berlin talks get under way.

Blight On U. N.
On Sunday, the third anniversary of the birth of the U. N., Secretary of State Marshall said the greatest blight on the record of the U. N. is the "obstructive attitude" of certain nations.

He didn't mention Russia by name. There's no doubt he meant Russia. That country now has used the veto 28 times in the U. N. to block international agreements or action. The U. S. hasn't used it once.

Only time can show whether this systematic obstruction of the Russians is a plan (1) to make the U. N. helpless and hopeless and (2) to keep the world in jitters.

National League Umpire Artie Gore hit one home run in 66 games of organized ball. It came in 1929 with Nashua, N. H.

SEE GROWTH OF 'NATIONALISM' AMONG GERMANS

By GEORGE BRIA
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
Berlin — A newspaper cartoon shows four giant soldiers sprawling in the ruins of the city. A tiny bespectacled man stands on the outskirts.

"Pardon me," he asks timidly, "where is the German sector?"

The cartoon, published this summer, is out of date.

For a "German sector," born of east-west strife, has grown in the mind if not the body of Germany.

Climax Last Month
It reached its climax early in September in a demonstration of 250,000 Germans against the Russians in Berlin. Some of them stoned the gigantic Soviet war memorial commemorating the Red Army sweep from Stalingrad to the heart of Germany.

One man defied bullets to climb on the Brandenburg Tor and fling down the red flag. It was a plain red flag and not the official Soviet banner, but only a pedant would quibble on the difference.

Even a year ago such a hostile demonstration against one of the occupying powers would have been hard to conceive. Today the mind has become so grooved along east-west lines that the outburst was hailed by western supporters as a defiant cry of freedom, and by the Russians as an attack of fascist gangsters.

Germany For Germans
Who was right? Neither side, entirely. More accurately, the demonstration can be defined as the greatest sign to date of the rising tide of a new German nationalism.

Few experienced observers of the German scene would venture to say that the mass of Germans had entirely rubbed off the taint of Nazism and militarism and, in three short years, become peace-loving freemen.

On the other hand, most agree that the Germans daily are displaying a greater show of independence in the zones controlled by the British and Americans. From Joseph Cardinal Frings in Cologne to Socialist Franz Neumann in western Berlin the cry is Germany for the Germans.

Attitudes Vary
The rebirth has been nursed along by official British and American policy. A high point came last spring when British Military Governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson lifted the few remaining official bans on social intercourse and called the Germans "Christians."

Thus, three years after the smashing of Hitlerism, the Germans became socially acceptable.

The French, fearful of any sign of German revival, still treat them as an inferior conquered people and base their policy on long term occupation and re-education.

The Russians, although they plump for withdrawal of all occupation forces and for "German unity," also frown socially on the Germans. The unified Germany they seek is a Communist Germany.

Planetoids or tiny planets were formed, according to one theory, by the explosion of a larger, primitive planet.

BLACK WALNUT

district committee chairman, who presided at the meeting.

Mr. Raffensperger reported on organization and extension work in the district and Dr. Riley told of plans for a faculty training school to be held in the York-Adams area with other sessions for scout leaders later.

Mr. Dickson told the committee summer camping plans at Memorial camp, near Dillsburg, next year call for two-week camp periods at $12 per boy for a seven-day week and $11 for the following six-day week in camp. An obstacle course, rifle and archery ranges and additional sites for troop camping are being constructed. Cabins are available for winter camping and troops will be encouraged to spend weekends there this winter. Application forms for week-end camps there are available from Mr. Dickson.

Troops Being Expanded
The committee was told that 10 boys from the Idaville-Gardners troop last week-end combined an Appalachian trail hike with an overnight camping trip at the Boy Scout camp.

Paper drives were discussed as means for scouts and troops to finance summer camping programs.

Mr. Dickson announced that charter papers for the Arendtsville troop are expected this week. He said a parents meeting for the Bendersville-Aspers community is planned for next week to launch an expanded scouting program there with the fire company as sponsors.

To Aid At Freedom Train
Scoutmasters throughout the district were notified to be ready to provide scouts for duties in connection with the visit of the Freedom Train here next month. The services to be asked of the scouts have not yet been determined, Mr. Dickson said, but as soon as plans are completed a call will be issued to all troops for scouts for duty here Nov. 19 and 20.

The Order of the Arrow, its purposes and the qualifications of members were described by Mr. Dickson who also urged that scouts be informed on the correct scout uniform and wearing of insignia.

He announced plans for a council committee-training session on December 12 either at York or at the scout camp.
